Stuart Davis
American, 1892–1964
Pad No. 4, 1947

The title of this artwork reveals the artist’s fondness for wordplay: “pad” refers to both an artist’s sketchbook and the jazz slang term for “home.” Davis also hid the title of the work in the composition itself. Can you spot the word “pad” and the number 4? Fill in Davis's painting with lots of color to create your own jazzy picture! See the original work in our open collection online.
