The Museum's Teen Programs are made possible by
The Constans Culver Foundation, the Blanchette Hooker Rockefeller Fund, and the Emily Davie and Joseph S. Kornfeld Foundation.

Teen Programs are also supported by the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs, New York State Assembly and its Brooklyn Delegation, the Steven & Alexandra Cohen Foundation, the Arison Arts Foundation, the Horace W. Goldsmith Foundation, the Laurie M. Tisch Illumination Fund, and Epstein Teicher Philanthropies.

Major support for these activities is also provided by the Edith and Frances Mulhall Achilles, William Randolph Hearst, and Joseph F. McCrindle Foundation education endowments and by Con Edison.

Proud supporters of the Brooklyn Museum’s Teen Programs and Family and Community Programs.

Day Camp & Youth Visits
Take your groups on a cross-cultural journey through art from around the world. In tours led by experienced teens, your group will engage with artworks old and new, learn connecting stories, explore art materials, and move their bodies. Open to all camp and other youth groups ages 4 to 18.

● Choose Your Lesson

Go Figure!
Enter the realm of multiple dimensions and learn how artists manipulate materials to bring them to life.

Shades of Change
Witness how art can be used to create change and fight for justice.

Egypt: Journey to Kemet
Explore ancient Egyptian art from the African continent.

Earth in Crisis
Understand Earth’s resources and get inspired by environmental activism through art.

Roots & Routes
Unearth origin stories of artworks and their mysterious journeys to the Brooklyn Museum.

→ Tours are led by Museum Apprentices, teen staff trained by our educators and curators to teach audiences of all ages about art.
